

Announcement:

Canadian firms now have another option for their accountant's professional liability insurance coverage!

After being approached by many Canadian firms, NAPLIA set out to provide Canadian firms with a cost effective option to their current insurance coverage. We have been successful in providing accounting firms in Canada competitive quotes at renewal and invite your firm to look into getting a competitive quote for coverage and save premium dollars while maintaining your current policy coverage and have the access to legal council for risk management issues.

I can start preparing an alternative to your current coverage when you provide the following via fax at 508-656-1399 or scan e-mail to stevev@naplia.com

- 1) A copy of your firm's renewal application to your current carrier.
- 2) A copy of the current professional liability declarations page and policy

Once the above items are received, a quote will be obtained for your accounting firm, usually with in three to five days. All accounting will be considered regardless of size or areas of practice.

Introducing those involved:

NAPLIA: NAPLIA is a broker in the United States that has many years experience providing professional liability insurance to the accounting industry. NAPLIA is the client contact liaison with the accounting firm and makes first contact in the process of providing insurance options to its clients. NAPLIA will take the initial clients information and application for the insurance company. NAPLIA works in the best interests of the client, not the insurance company. Realizing that Canada is a different risk environment then the United States, NAPLIA initiated a working relationship with Marsh Insurance understanding the need for a partner that knew the Canadian Accounting Industry exposure very well.

Catlin of Canada Insurance Company:

Catlin is a syndicate of Lloyd's of London and provides the actual professional liability policy and has a duty to defend by naming legal counsel and paying for that legal counsel in the event of a claim against the policy holder for professional services rendered. Damages are also paid up to the limit of liability in the event damages are assessed against the policy holder in a claim.

It is our hope that you find the process for obtaining a quote quite simple and we look forward to serving you.

Sincerely,
Stephen Vono
